

Case 62: run-level shading (w:rPr/w:shd)

S1 Section 1: visible pale-yellow shading

Normal text, then this run has pale yellow shading, then normal again.

S2 Section 2: highlight + shading, different colors

Normal, then this run is yellow highlight on a cyan shading fill, normal.

S3 Section 3: shading inherited from character style

Normal, this run uses char style PinkShd — no inline w:shd, normal.

S4 Section 4: run cancels inherited shading via val="nil"

Baseline: inherits pink from style. Override: this run has rStyle=PinkShd AND w:shd val="nil" — should be unshaded.

S5 Section 5: shaded run wraps across a line break

Start. this is a deliberately long shaded span that will wrap across a line break so the shading rectangle must be drawn on two lines and not only the first line of the paragraph
End.

S6 Section 6: adjacent runs — merge same, split different

Normal. [first shaded run green] [second shaded run green — should merge with first]
[third shaded run ORANGE — must not bleed green into it] normal.

S7 Section 7: shaded runs at different font sizes

Shading across sizes: small 10pt BIG 18pt end.